DAVID AKINAKA AIA

Principal

David Akinaka joined Ferraro Choi And Associates Ltd in 2004, and is actively engaged in the design and management of numerous commercial, institutional, and interior projects. Prior to joining Ferraro Choi, he spent several years practicing at an award-winning architecture firm in New York City.

Mr. Akinaka has been the project architect and designer for the UH Culinary Institute of the Pacific at Diamond Head and has worked closely with various academic, cultural, and community stakeholders involved with the project. He also was responsible for sensitively integrating new climate control systems and gallery renovations at the historic Honolulu Museum of Art as well as managing major building renovations and additions to the historic and iconic Vladimir Ossipoff-designed IBM Building

He is currently involved in the design of the Wailuku Civic Complex which the County of Maui has envisioned as a catalyst to revitalizing Downtown Wailuku.
